

- The sponsor of the Kyla Houchens Postcard made false statements concerning Ms. Houchens; and
- Angel Kavanaugh failed to include proper sponsor identification on postcards she sponsored to support her own campaign.

2.2 On September 15, 2005 the Public Disclosure Commission directed PDC staff to suspend all investigations of alleged violations of RCW 42.17.530, a statute prohibiting false political advertising. The suspension was ordered pending appeal of the Court of Appeals decision in Rickert v. Public Disclosure Commission to the Washington State Supreme Court. In Rickert, the Court of Appeals held that RCW 42.17.530(1)(a) is unconstitutional. On September 21, 2005, PDC Director of Compliance Philip Stutzman notified Kyla Houchens by telephone that PDC staff had suspended its investigation into the alleged false statements contained in the postcard, but that staff would continue to investigate the alleged failure by the sponsor of the postcard to identify him or herself.

III.

FINDINGS

- 3.1 On August 17, 2005, a Personal Financial Affairs Statement was received from Angel Kavanaugh. (Exhibit 2) The filing indicated that Ms. Kavanaugh's mailing address is 611 6th Street in Hoquiam, Washington, that her spouse is Steve Kavanaugh, and that her email address is angel1969@comcast.net.
- 3.2 Order for the Kyla Houchens Postcard: The staff of the Aberdeen Staples office supply store provided a copy of an email sent to the store on August 7, 2005 to place the order for the Kyla Houchens Postcard, with an attached Microsoft Publisher file containing the text of the postcard. (Exhibit 3) The email was sent from angel1969@comcast.net, the email address of Angel Kavanaugh. In form and content, this email closely resembled postcard printing orders sent to Staples from Ms. Kavanaugh's email address on July 28, 2005 and August 18, 2005; copies of these two emails were also provided by the store's staff. (Exhibits 4, 5) (Hereafter, these postcards are referred to as Kavanaugh Postcard 1 and Kavanaugh Postcard 2.)
- 3.3 Payment for the Kyla Houchens Postcard: The staff of the Aberdeen Staples store provided documents indicating that the Kyla Houchens Postcard was picked up and purchased from the store on August 8, 2005. (Exhibit 6) The documents indicate that the order was paid in cash, using a Staples Rewards account set up under the name of Angel Muhlhauser, the former married name of Angel Kavanaugh. (Exhibits 6-8) Staples Rewards is similar to a frequent flier program in that it tracks each consumer's purchases and offers a reward of Staples gift certificates equal to a percentage of the consumer's quarterly purchases at the store.

- 3.4 Witnesses: Stephanie Eliason, a Staples employee of five years who is currently employed in office supplies at the Aberdeen Staples location, identified Angel Kavanaugh from a photograph and stated under oath that she personally rang up the payment from Ms. Kavanaugh for the purchase of the Kyla Houchens Postcard. (Exhibit 9) Ms. Eliason stated that she had seen Ms. Kavanaugh on previous occasions at her Staples location, and that she does not know her except as a customer at the store.

Deborah Gerchak, a copy center specialist at the Aberdeen Staples location and a Staples employee of over five years, identified Angel Kavanaugh from a photograph and stated under oath that she witnessed Ms. Kavanaugh pick up and pay for the Kyla Houchens Postcard. (Exhibit 10)

Ms. Gerchak stated that she personally processed the order for the Kyla Houchens Postcard. Further, after receiving the order for the postcard via email, she called Ms. Kavanaugh's cellular phone and discussed the quantity of the order with her. Ms. Gerchak stated that she has personally helped Ms. Kavanaugh at her Staples location on approximately five occasions, and that she does not know her except as a customer at the store.

- 3.5 Written Response from Angel Kavanaugh: On August 30, 2005, a written response to the complaint filed by Kyla Houchens was received from Angel Kavanaugh. (Exhibit 11) In her response, Ms. Kavanaugh stated that she was not the sponsor of the Kyla Houchens Postcard. She stated that she sponsored her first postcard to support her own campaign (Kavanaugh Postcard 1) on July 29, 2005, and a second postcard to support her campaign (Kavanaugh Postcard 2) on August 18, 2005.

She stated that documentation enclosed with her response would prove that her Staples purchase dates do not match the date of the Kyla Houchens Postcard mailing.

She stated further that she was in a position to know personal information about Kyla Houchens and her family, but that she was not unique in this respect and in any case would not have used this information for personal gain.

Finally, she stated that she did not include an explicit statement of sponsor identification in the postcards she sponsored to support her own campaign, precisely because she was her postcards' sponsor. On September 9, 2005, PDC staff contacted Ms. Kavanaugh by telephone to caution her that proper sponsor identification including the words "Paid for by" or "Sponsored by" is required on all written political advertising, even when sponsored by the candidate themselves.

- 3.6 Attached to Ms. Kavanaugh's response were listings of purchases she made from Staples between January 2004 and September 2005. This first page of this listing (Exhibit 11, p 3) indicated that it included all Staples Rewards purchases made between July and September of 2005. This listing did not include any purchases made on August 8, 2005, the date the Kyla Houchens Postcard was purchased from the Aberdeen Staples.

However, the following page of the listing (Exhibit 11, p 4) included a purchase of labels from Staples on August 8, 2005, the same date that the sponsor of the Kyla Houchens Postcard purchased mailing labels from the store. (Exhibit 6) This purchase indicates either that the first page of Ms. Kavanaugh's documentation was not a complete record of her purchases during August of 2005, or that the records which followed included purchases made with a separate Staples Rewards account.

- 3.7 Interview with Angel Kavanaugh: On September 29, 2005, Angel Kavanaugh was interviewed under oath. Ms. Kavanaugh confirmed that her personal email address is angel1969@comcast.net, and stated that she had been using this address for approximately two months. She confirmed that she was a frequent customer of the Aberdeen Staples location, and stated that she had two postcards supporting her current campaign for Hoquiam City Council produced at this store location.

Ms. Kavanaugh denied being the sponsor of the Kyla Houchens Postcard. She could not explain why the list she provided of Staples Rewards purchases (Exhibit 11, p 4) included an August 8, 2005 purchase of labels at the store.

- 3.8 When shown the August 7, 2005 email (Exhibit 3) sent from her email address to Staples to order the Kyla Houchens Postcard, Ms. Kavanaugh stated that she did not send the email or create the attached Publisher document.

She speculated that the email ordering the postcard could have been forged so as to appear as if it had been sent from her email address. She said that if it was proved that the email did originate from her computer, she was nevertheless not responsible.

- 3.9 When shown the internal Staples records (Exhibit 7) relating to the Staples Rewards account set up in 2002 under the name Angel Muhlhauser, she confirmed that Muhlhauser was her former married name, and that the mailing address, email address, telephone number and fax number in the record were hers, either currently or in the past. She stated that when she received the Rewards card used for the account set up under her current name, she did not destroy the Rewards card she previously used, but simply discarded it. She stated that multiple cards were generated when her Rewards account was first established, and speculated that another person was actively using a card generated for the earlier version of the account.

- 3.10 In the interview, Ms. Kavanaugh contradicted the testimony of Stephanie Eliason and Deborah Gerchak (Exhibit 9, 10) that she personally picked up and paid for the Kyla Houchens Postcard. She contradicted the testimony of Deborah Gerchak that Ms. Gerchak contacted her on her cellular phone the day the Kyla Houchens Postcard was produced and discussed the quantity of the order with her. She stated that she was not acquainted with Stephanie Eliason and Deborah Gerchak outside of her business with Staples. Ms. Kavanaugh could not offer evidence of why two Staples employees would testify under oath that she was the sponsor of the Kyla Houchens Postcard if that were not the case.
- 3.11 During the interview, PDC staff showed Ms. Kavanaugh a letter to the editor which appeared to have been published under her name, a copy of which was received from Kyla Houchens on September 22, 2005. (Exhibit 12) Ms. Kavanaugh reviewed the letter and confirmed that she was its author. Staff pointed Ms. Kavanaugh's attention to a segment of the letter in which she stated the following:

"I got a call from a Daily World reporter asking me about my opponent, Kyla Houchens, and the 'puzzling postcard' investigation. I am sorry that bad things were said about her, but if it is the truth then voters need to know those things. I know that when you run for any political office, your family and personal life are open to the public."

Ms. Kavanaugh stated that her intent in the letter was to state that if allegations concerning Ms. Houchens' conduct were accurate, it was appropriate to inform voters of this conduct. She stated that it was not her intent to condone statements in political advertising about a candidate's family members.

- 3.12 Angel Kavanaugh cooperated with PDC staff during the investigation of this complaint.

I believe Angel Kavanaugh is responsible for a political mailing where in she misrepresented herself as me, Kyla Houchens. The false mailing purported as being produced and mailed by myself contains lies and misinformation concerning myself and my family.

AUG 24 2005

Public Disclosure Commisss

The mailing, of which the PDC has copies, states that my daughter was 17 years of age at the time her baby was born, where in fact my daughter was 18 years of age when her child was born. Also the mailing states that I pay $128 in rental payment for my home. That is also false. The mailing suggests that my husband has multiple assaults on record and that is again not a truthful statement. He did plead no contest to one count of domestic violence, but nothing more.

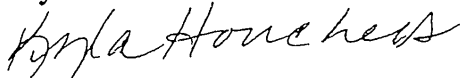

In my opinion the entire mailing is false due to the fact that she misrepresented herself as me.

Although the post cards do not state that Angel Kavanaugh is the person who manufactured and mailed them, there is, I believe information obtainable to prove that she was in fact responsible for them.

I was informed that she ordered the printing of this mailing at the Aberdeen Staples office center. She sent the order request via email and according to the manager of Staples (Jeff) this information can be confirmed. Also the counter worker at Staples (Debbie and Angela) who did the actual printing of the order recalls Angel Kavanaugh picking up the order and commenting that she was doing so for a friend.

Another point to be considered is neither of the political mailings contained sponsorship information.

ANGEL KAVANAUGH FOR CITY COUNCIL

Hi, I am running for city council. Why? I want to help our city be a great place to live, work and do business. I have experience writing grants. I know we can get federal monies to improve our sidewalks. They need to be more accessible for our elderly and disabled residents. I know we can get NEW business to come to town, creating jobs and city tax revenue. I know we can improve our downtown area and develop our waterfront to attract business. Please call or email me about issues or concerns you have. Email - angel1969@comcast.net
Thanks for YOUR vote. Angel Kavanaugh

PERKINS: Thank you. I am going to get into my questions now. Will you tell me first what position you hold with Staples or what department of the store you work in?

ELIASON: I work in office supplies.

PERKINS: How long have you worked for the company?

ELIASON: Five years.

PERKINS: I sent four exhibits marked A, B, C and D to you in advance of the interview. Did you have a chance to review those?

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: Do you have them in front of you?

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: Would you take a look at exhibit A? It's a photo of two women.

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: Do you recognize either of the women pictured?

ELIASON: Number 1.

PERKINS: Can you tell me who that is?

ELIASON: Angel.

PERKINS: What is that person's last name?

ELIASON: Kavanaugh.

PERKINS: Do you recognize photo 2?

ELIASON: No.

PERKINS: You don't? Ok. For the record, these photos are of Angel Kavanaugh, Photo 1 and Kyla Houghens, Photo 2, and were copied from the website of the Grays Harbor County Elections office.

ELIASON: Ok.

PERKINS: Thank you Stephanie. Would you flip now to exhibit B?

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: A copy of a postcard that begins the statement "Hi, my name is Kyla Houghens".

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: Do you recognize this postcard?

ELIASON: Yes, I do.

PERKINS: Ok. Were you involved in processing the order for the copies or processing payment of this postcard?

ELIASON: Payment.

PERKINS: Ok, just payment. Can you tell me who picked up and paid for the order for these postcards?

ELIASON: Angel Kavanaugh.

PERKINS: Ok. What else can you tell me about the transaction? For instance, date and time? Or anything else about the person who made the payment or your interaction with them?

ELIASON: She asked me if we sold labels. I told her where they were and she paid for those too at the same time.

PERKINS: Do you know what kind of labels they were?

ELIASON: Address labels.

PERKINS: Ok. Do you happen to recall the date or the time of the transaction?

ELIASON: No, I don't.

PERKINS: Ok, thank you anyway. Is there anything else off the top of your head that you can remember about your interaction?

ELIASON: No.

PERKINS: Ok. Just to be clear, the person that picked up these postcards was the person pictured in photo 1 on the previous exhibit?

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: Ok, thank you very much.

ELIASON: You are welcome.

PERKINS: Can you now look at exhibits C and D? Two postcards that support Angel Kavanaugh's campaign. Were you involved in processing these orders at all?

ELIASON: No.

PERKINS: You were not, ok. Let's see. I'm going to go back to a question about Angel Kavanaugh. How frequently does she come into your location?

ELIASON: I don't know.

PERKINS: Have you seen her a few times? You don't have to be real precise.

ELIASON: Just a few. Not a whole lot.

PERKINS: About how many times have you personally helped her?

ELIASON: Once and that was the only time.

PERKINS: Just this most recent?

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: Do you know her outside of work or only on the occasions when you have helped her as a customer?

ELIASON: Just inside the store.

PERKINS: You don't have any dealings with her outside of work?

ELIASON: No.

PERKINS: You only helped her personally on the one occasion but you do recall seeing her in your Staples more than once. Is that right?

PERKINS: Are you there Stephanie?

ELIASON: Yes.

PERKINS: Thank you. Are you just thinking about my question?

ELIASON: No, I've only helped her one time and that's the only time. I have seen her just a couple more times.

PERKINS: I don't want to beat a dead horse but is it at all possible for you to say two times in the last three months or to flush it out at all anymore?

ELIASON: No, that was the only time that I rang her up.

PERKINS: In terms of the other times that you've seen her in the store, was it in the last year or the last few months?

ELIASON: The last few months.

PERKINS: You didn't help her on those occasions?

ELIASON: No.

PERKINS: I did have one other question. You indicated that the "Hi, I'm Kyla Houghens" postcard was picked up by Angel. Were there any other Staples' employees who might have witnessed that transaction?

ELIASON: Deborah.

PERKINS: What is her last name?

ELIASON: Gerchak.

PERKINS: Anyone else that you can think of?

ELIASON: No. She and I were the only two in the copy center.

PERKINS: Thank you very much for your help today Stephanie. Is there anything else that you would like to add to your statement?

ELIASON: No, that's it.

PERKINS: Ok, then in that case, I am going to conclude this recorded statement. The time is now 1:09 pm on September 19th, 2005. I am stopping the tape.

1 of 5

GERCHAK: 360-538-0536.

PERKINS: Just to clarify, you weren't sitting in on the previous interview, were you?

GERCHAK: No.

PERKINS: Is Stephanie in the room with you now?

GERCHAK: No.

PERKINS: I am going to go ahead and move onto my questions then. First can you tell me what position you hold with Staples or what department of the store do you work in?

GERCHAK: I am a copy center specialist.

PERKINS: What does that entail?

GERCHAK: I manage the copy center.

PERKINS: Do you have hands on experience with the machines or do other staff members actually produce orders?

GERCHAK: Other staff members produce orders along side me.

PERKINS: How long have you worked for Staples?

GERCHAK: Over five years.

PERKINS: I sent four exhibits marked A, B, C and D in advance of this interview. Did you have a chance to review those?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: Do you have them in front of you now?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: Can you look at exhibit A for me? It is photos of two women. Do you recognize either of the women pictured in the photos?

GERCHAK: Both of them.

PERKINS: Can you identify the woman in photo 1?

Angela Kavanaugh.

PERKINS: And the woman in photo 2?

GERCHAK: Kyla Houghens.

PERKINS: Just for the record to explain for this tape recording, I'm going to state that these photos are first of Angel Kavanaugh in photo 1 and Kyla Houghens in photo 2. They were copied from the website of the Grays Harbor County Elections office. Can you take a look at exhibit B, a postcard that begins "Hi, my name is Kyla Houghens"? Do you recognize this post card?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: Were you involved in processing the order for the copies or processing payment for this print order?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: Which? Both?

GERCHAK: I processed the order.

PERKINS: Not payment?

GERCHAK: I was there when it was paid for.

PERKINS: Can you tell me who picked up and paid for this print job?

GERCHAK: Angel Kavanaugh.

PERKINS: Can you tell me anything else about the transaction, for instance the date and time?

GERCHAK: Off the top of my head, it was the same day it was processed that it was purchased.

PERKINS: Can you tell me anything else about your interaction with Ms. Kavanaugh or anything that was said when she picked up the order?

GERCHAK: I had actually once I had received the order, I had myself called her to double check on the order and the way that she wanted it processed.

PERKINS: This particular order for the "Kyla Houghens" postcard?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: So did you talk to her on the day that she picked it up?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: What was discussed?

GERCHAK: She had put in the order request that she wanted 680 copies of this flyer in postcard size and I had called to ask her because I can fit four to a page whether she wanted 680 copies of with four to a page or 680 postcards.

PERKINS: Do you recall where you reached her when you called her? Did you contact her at work or at home? Do you have anyway of knowing today?

GERCHAK: I believe it was her cell phone. That's usually how we contact her.

PERKINS: So you were present when she paid for it? Do you recall anything about that transaction?

GERCHAK: I just did what I normally do when people come in. Showed them a copy and had them look it over. She said it looked fine. It was short. That was about it.

PERKINS: You were there when she actually made payment, is that correct?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: But you don't recall anything that she said or any questions that she had?

GERCHAK: No, she just said they looked fine and she paid.

PERKINS: Was there anybody else present during either when she picked the postcards up or when she paid for them?

GERCHAK: Stephanie rang the order up.

PERKINS: You were standing there when Stephanie rang the order up?

GERCHAK: Right, exactly next to her.

PERKINS: Can you look at the next two exhibits, C and D?

GERCHAK: Ok.

PERKINS: Do you recognize either of these postcards?

GERCHAK: Yes, I recognize them but I didn't process them.

PERKINS: So you weren't present the day that they were actually copied or you don't recall being present when they were paid for? Is that right?

GERCHAK: Correct.

PERKINS: Can you tell me Angel Kavanaugh visits your location of Staples in your experience?

GERCHAK: On an average, maybe twice a month.

PERKINS: Can you say, even approximately, how many times you have helped her personally?

GERCHAK: Probably five or six times.

PERKINS: Do you know her outside of work or only as a customer of Staples?

GERCHAK: Only as a customer of Staples.

PERKINS: So you haven't had any dealings with her outside of Staples?

GERCHAK: No, I have not.

PERKINS: Can you tell me how often Kyla Houghens visits your store?

GERCHAK: I've only helped her once myself.

PERKINS: But you think that she may have come in other times and it may not have registered with you?

GERCHAK: Yes.

PERKINS: Do you know her outside of work?

GERCHAK: I do not.

PERKINS: What did you do for Kyla when she came in that one time?

GERCHAK: Faxed some forms. I believe it was to the Public Disclosure.

PERKINS: To us, great, I think I got that fax. Do you have anything that you would like to add to your statement?

GERCHAK: Not really.

PERKINS: Thanks very much for taking time to speak with me today. This recorded statement is now concluded. The time is 1:12 on September 19, 2005. I am going to stop the tape.

In response to Kyla's complaint.

I have enclosed copies of my staples transactions for the past quarter. As you can see I had my 1st post cards done on 7/29/05 then my 2nd ones on 8/19/05. The dates do NOT match with her mailing. I did NOT do her card. I paid for my cards myself with my own money. I have no campaign account nor have I solicited donations. I am paying for my campaign on my own therefore I did not put paid for by >>>.

I would also like to file a complaint.

Friday 8/26/05 most of my yard signs I had put out disappeared. The stakes where left behind but the signs where taken. In retaliation I think Kyla or someone on her team took them.

Also her friend Angela Walker has sent me nasty threatening emails from the day this started. She says she is justified because of what she thinks I did to Kyla. I know I did not do this. Kyla herself could have, anyone of her friends or someone who does not like her, there are many other people who could have done this. I know I did not. There is no basis in fact, all anyone is looking at is opinion, not factual evidence.

To who ever wants to know the truth?

In regards to info I know about Kyla

Last spring Kyla came to my house with her daughter & mine. Since I am a paralegal she asked me what I would charge to do divorce papers for her. She stated she wanted to leave her husband and move back to Michigan with the girls. I told her my fee and the court filing fee. She said she would have to wait until after the 1st when she got her check. So anyone knows what that means.(welfare or disability)

Also her housing being sec 8, everyone in our neighbor hood knows. The person I bought my house from told me over 2 years ago that she also owned that house (the one Kyla lives in). Plus her next door neighbor knows and has told many times over the past 3 years things about them.

Now about her teenage unwed daughter. My daughter Deanna and Jennifer had been friend for 2 years when my daughter came home from school over a year ago and told me Jennifer was pregnant and dropping out of school. My daughter also told me Jennifer's boyfriend was twenty something. I told me daughter she could no longer be friend with Jennifer. I have higher values & morals for my kids. I told let them hang out with teenage moms or people more then 2 years older then them.

SO yes I knew personal info on Kyla but I knew this stuff NOT from my current job or any illegal access. It was from her mouth or others. I am NOT the only person who knew this info nor would I use it for personal gain.

As to anything else on the card I am have not seen one so I can not address other issues other then what I have heard going around. Steven from the DW told me he would drop one off but NEVER did.

I also find it suspicious that the same day the article came out I come home from work to find 3 threatening & rude emails from her best friend Angela Walker. The same person, who the next day has a letter to the editor in the paper about how great her friend Kyla is. I now have court Sept 1st against this person and what she has been saying about me. DO the police care? NO

I also went to the Hoquiam police Dept, det. Coxs was to busy to speak with me, so I left my cell # for him to call. Did he ever call me? NO. Has the police dept even asked me anything? NO. To me this seems very one sided.

'No hard feelings,' but let the chips fall where they may

You hear about mud slinging all the time in politics. But I would think that in our small, beautiful town of Hoquiam this would not happen.

Let's leave the mud slinging to D.C.

I do believe the voters in Hoquiam should know how much experience their City Council candidates have.

I would like to see a debate for those of us running for office in Hoquiam.

I, for one, plan to run a clean and honest campaign.

I got a call from a Daily World reporter asking me about my opponent, Kyla Houchens, and the "puzzling post-card" investigation.

I am sorry that bad things were said about her, but if it is the truth then voters need to know those things.

I know that when you run for any political office your family and personal life are open to the public.

I have no hard feelings against Kyla. I look forward to running a good honest campaign. I would hope she plans to do the same.

I would encourage voters to call us both and speak to us about the issues facing Hoquiam. I want to help move Hoquiam in the right direction.

Angel Kavanaugh

Hoquiam City Council candidate
